Limited Availability Notice:

Due to component availability, Honeywell is able to sell approximately 12,000 more Dolphin 6000 terminals. As a result of the fixed available quantity, Honeywell may not be able to fulfill all orders between now and the projected last time buy date if incoming orders exceed expected demand. However, many distribution partners have existing inventory and should be contacted directly with respect to their product availability.

Please work with your Honeywell representative to ensure ordered products are commercially available. Honeywell will continue to monitor and provide quarterly updates as to the number of units available for sale from our offices.
